1. INTRODUCTION TO PAIA

- 1.1 The Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000 ('the Act') also referred to as "PAIA" came into operation on 9 March 2001 and gives effect to the constitutional right of access to information that is enshrined in section 32 of the Bill of Rights contained in the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, No. 108 of 1996 ('the Constitution'). Section 32 of the Constitution provides that everyone has the right to access any information held by the state or by another person, where such information is required for the exercise or protection of any legitimate rights and actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect all of their rights.
- 1.2 The Act accordingly requires that procedures be put in place by public and private bodies to enable persons to obtain access to records swiftly, affordably and effortlessly. In terms of the Act, a private body includes juristic entities such as companies, close corporations and also includes partnerships and sole proprietors. The Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013, ("POPIA") on the other hand regulates, and inter alia, how Personal Information held, received, used and disseminated by a body or person in connection with another party / person is protected and the consent therefore required.
- 1.3 In terms of section 51 of the Act, all private bodies are required to compile an information manual ('PAIA Manual') that provides information on the types and categories of records held by a public or private body and the process that must be followed when requesting information related to such records and information.
- 1.4 Where a request is made in terms of the Act, the body to whom the request is made is obliged to release the information, subject to applicable legislative and/or regulatory requirements, except where the Act expressly provides that the information may be adopted when requesting information from a public or private body.
- 1.5 This document serves as the information manual of HMT loans as required in terms of the Act. This manual must be read together with our Privacy Policy Part B of this manual.
